To Whom it May Concern:

We highly recommend Warren Barry to tackle any type of architectural project. He brings together the arts, sciences and technology. He combines creative design with a wide range of technical knowledge to provide integrated forms for the built and natural environments. Some of the many qualities we have come to admire about Mr. Barry have been as follows:

- Has Good Communication skills, always holding effective discussions, ensuring everyone has sufficiently communicated their wants and needs for the project at hand.
- Employs Excellent Listening Skills, always fully grasping what we were seeking.
- Shows Strong Drawing/Sketching Skills, both via computer and by hand, as a great architect must have.
- Has an Excellent Sense of Design, able to translate ideas onto paper with ease.
- Possesses Solid Technical Abilities, able to successfully integrate mechanical, electrical, and structural elements into his designs.
- Is able to problem Solve, identifying issues as soon as they arise and develop rapid solutions to address them.
- Able to visualize our project effectively
- Has a Passion for His Work

I truly believe that Mr. Barry works in the field because he loves it. He has a tremendous drive and work ethic as well. He has always been there for us to answer any questions or concerns we had. He has also been very fair with pricing and willingly made all requested changes to our project without incurring any extra charges. He is truly the best and the only architect we will use.
